ABOUT THE GREENVILLE SYMPHONY

As an educational and cultural ambassador for Greenville and South Carolina, the Greenville Symphony Orchestra (GSO) is a resource that builds community by providing excellence in live musical performance, educating minds, and engaging our community through the unifying power of music.

A core roster of 67 professional musicians perform over 30 public ticketed concerts annually at venues including the Peace Center, the Peace Center Gunter Theatre, and at various venues across the region. The Greenville Symphony has been the anchoring cultural offering of the upstate for more than 75 years.

Our programs are designed for every age and listener. Annually, the orchestra offers more than 100 free events that serve 25,000 people in the South Carolina Upstate. Our board, orchestra musicians, and leadership are passionate about supporting and promoting our local music teachers, and our community arts partners like the SC Children's Theatre, the Greenville Chorale, International Ballet, Greenville Youth Chorale, Sigal Music Museum, Greenville County Youth Orchestra, and the Carolina Youth Symphony.

As the Greenville Symphony continues to evolve with a rapidly growing Greenville, we are investing in high quality musicians and staff, enriching programmatic offerings, and enhancing community impact through educational engagement.
